BC-04 : Storage- and transshipment of animal feed or 'by-products for reprocessing': Complementary provisions

1. Application scope

These provisions shall apply to companies performing activities such as storage and/or transshipment of feed or 'by-products for reprocessing' for account of third parties.

Companies performing activities such as storage and/or transshipment of feed and/or by-products for reprocessing, packaged or in sealed containers, intended for account of third parties, are excluded from the certification requirements. However, if they wish to do, they may comply with the requirements of the Feed Chain Alliance Standard and become certified. These companies however, must still comply with the legal and European Regulations in force, in terms of registration, auto-control, HACCP System, traceability and notification requirements.

2. Provisions related to the Application of part A (documents)

- a. Document 'AC-00: Introduction' is applicable to all participants certified for Feed Chain Alliance .
- b. Document 'AC-01: General provisions' is applicable to all participants certified for Feed Chain Alliance performing an activity such as storage and/or transshipment of animal feed or 'by-products for reprocessing' for account of third parties.
- c. Document 'AC-04: Storage and transshipment of feed' is applicable to all participants certified for Feed Chain Alliance performing activities such as storage and/or transshipment of animal feed or 'by-products for reprocessing' for account of third parties.

3. Provisions related to the Application of part B (documents)

- a. Document 'BC-00: Introduction' is applicable to all participants certified for FCA.
- b. Document 'BC-01: General provisions' is applicable to all participants certified for FCA.
- c. Any purchase of services by participants (customer) certified for FCA must take place in accordance with document 'BT-02: Purchase: General provisions'. More specifically in the event of subcontracting a mission such as storage and/or transshipment, the participant certified for FCA shall ensure that services such as storage and/or transshipment are exclusively entrusted to sub-contractors complying with the conditions mentioned in 'BT-02: Purchase: General provisions'.
- d. The requirements included in document 'BT-09: Storage and transshipment' must be respected.
- e. If the company takes samples or performs analysis, it must meet the requirements contained in document 'BT-11: Sampling and analysis'.
- f. The execution of internal audits must be executed according to document 'BT-12: Internal audit'.
